Core Activities and Learning

The purpose of Paul's missionary journeys was to make known to the Gentiles, who were the non-Jewish people, the teaching of Jesus, announce that He is our Saviour, and establish His Church in different places. Paul wrote to Romans, the 1 and 2 Thessalonians, 1 and 2 Corinthians, the letters to Galatians, Ephesians, Colossians, Philippians, 1 and 2 Timothy, Titus, Hebrews, and Philemon. Paul wrote fourteen of the Epistles that we can find in the New Testament. The last four letters were written to people Paul knew. Through the Epistles, God encourages and guides His people. Paul wrote to them about how to live the Christian life. The plan that St Paul was following on his missionary journeys was:

- God was calling Paul to go to a certain town/area
- Paul was teaching to the people of this place all about the teachings and mission of Christ proclaiming that Jesus Christ is the Messiah.
- Some people were responding to this truth.
- Paul was baptising the people who believed on the Lord Jesus Christ.
- Paul was staying with the people of that town for a while to establish a good ground for the Early Church.
- Paul was ordaining elders (presbyters) to serve the Church and the people.
- Paul was writing letters to the presbyters for guidance and spiritual support.
